Dear Ms. Danforth,

As a friendly reminder, we will be switching your old Micromedex 1.0 interface to the brand new Micromedex 2.0 on this coming Wednesday, March 16th 2011.

The transition is very user-friendly; all of the same great information you've come to know from Micromedex is still there with a greatly improved search engine to get you to the exact results you're seeking faster than ever.

We will be offering ongoing access to Micromedex 1.0 through June 1st , and we have a variety of online training options to help you learn your way around, including live webinars!

If you have any questions, would like to know more about Micromedex 2.0, or your training options, please call or email me.

Thank you,

Sean Lovato
